The INFINITE RESOURCE and the SIXTH SENSE

Is Global warming a risk? No, it is the evidence of a free, clean, abundant resource

Many people are affected by the restless nature of our planet. Earth's climate, gravity, waistline, magnetosphere are all changing. December 2008, a giant breach in the Earth's magnetic field, ten times larger than anything thought to exist. In 2009, cosmic ray intensities have increased 20 percent, beyond anything we've seen in the past 50 years. The whole solar system is undergoing global warming. Gamma rays that flash briefly in Earth's atmosphere during lightning storms are much more frequent and powerful than previously thought. These rays - high-energy photons - exceed the energies of those from cosmic sources such as the explosive births of black holes.

"Warming of the climate system is unequivocal and very likely due to human activities". It is the verdict of the Fourth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) Hence we humans are guilty, responsible for the Earth's global warming.

The cause is Carbon Dioxide in the air that provokes the greenhouse effect, they say. And so why is Martian ice shrinking, rapid global climate change evident on Jupiter? Why has the atmospheric pressure of Pluto tripled in a few years? Polar ices, where no carbon pollution exists, are melting from below and more rapidly than the rest of the planet. Most heat is coming from inside the Earth and not from outside. Frequent flashes of gamma-ray, lasting about a millisecond, also occur in the Earth's upper atmosphere. Their energy is greater than the emission from all the cosmic sources, exceed the energies of the explosive births of black holes.

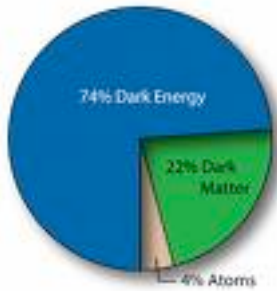

What is warming the Earth? It is not the Sun, as they recognize; the sunlight on Earth's surface has decreased significantly. It is called global dimming and simultaneous to global warming. Another paradox, respect to the usual belief that energy from the Sun drives the Earth's temperature, weather and climate. Scientists don't actually know what is occurring.

They all "forget" the infinite resource, sourcing from any single atomic nucleus: it is the nuclear force, physicists call "weak" and discovered in the 30's. It is the cause of hot nuclear fusion in all the stars of the universe, as they say. Weak? If we finally consider this "weak", neglected force we can realize that global dimming and global warming are the two side effects of a nuclear process that any kind of power has hidden (see Organic Universe).

The process is a cold nuclear fusion that is not harmful at all. It is what hermetic sages have indicated as alchemy, the Gospels as the resurrection of the human body.

Christian religions have defined it as a miracle and persecuted all the people who have instead realized it is a natural, highly beneficial, healing process, possible for every single human body. Sciences believe it is impossible. Why do they think so? The answer, my friend, no longer is blowing in the wind. They ultimately believe in a false "god": LINEAR TIME. Hence they are not able to realize what Pythagoras (600 BC) has said and modern mathematicians have shown too. There are infinite times, infinite rhythms of the one ETERNAL HARMONY.

Astrophysicists had so far proposed the picture of an immense universe, where we, small humans, seem powerless and isolated, dependent on the banks and condemned to have limited resources. Yet many clues show that our cosmos is much stranger than scientists have ever imagined. The universe is not so huge, is expanding ever faster and largely composed of dark matter and dark energy. The universe is only 4% ordinary matter; 22% percent is dark exotic matter and the remainder, 74%, is dark energy, causing the universe to expand at an ever-faster rate.

What is 96% of the universe made of? Astrophysicists don't know. Being a form of light, dark energy (74%) cannot be exiled into intergalactic spaces. It is in "empty space", hence everywhere, even inside any body composed of atoms, which are mostly empty, as a fact. There is a further, neglected yet crucial aspect: the non-observable 96% doesn't obey the physical laws we call "natural". Dark matter and dark energy have no weight, no inertia, no visibility and no speed barrier; they are "supernatural", in this sense.

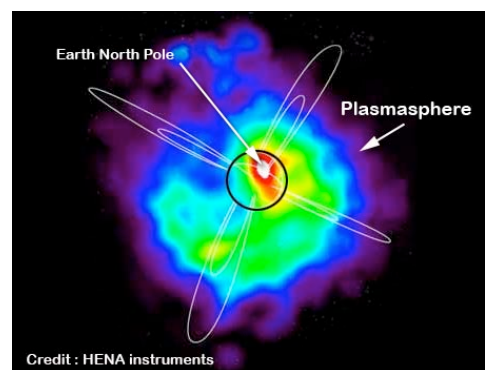

The three messengers of the "weak" force - known as vector bosons ( $W^+$ ,  $W^-$ ,  $Z^0$ ) – can interact with any organism (see Organic Universe); they can also link the "natural" ordinary matter and the "supernatural" dark matter, even give a new "flavour" to the nuclear matter, which composes our human body, trigger a new, nuclear state, hence a new perception, able to realize that infinite, invisible, intelligent worlds are here. These also show every single being's substantial immortality.

Dark energy can be the Eternal Harmony, the celestial MUSIC, of which sages like Pythagoras (600 BC) and Giordano Bruno (1548-1600 AC) already spoke. The WMAP probe has actually allowed scientists to "hear" It; its data confirmed quite a new picture of the universe, very different from the one they had been painting so far and very similar to ancient sages' one instead. People do not concern to the "mysteries" of the universe, believed as separated from the Earth. Yet geologists don't even know what the Earth is made of; experimental data no longer fit their models.

Geologists have recently found that Earth's inner core is spinning faster than the visible Earth. And this hellishly core, almost as big as the moon, is apparently growing in size. "It's like a planet within a planet"... Its temperature is 5,500°C, hotter than many previous estimates about as hot as the Sun's surface. Thus we live on the surface of a planet, ignoring the causes, which drive its temperature and also the huge energies beneath our feet.

The weak nuclear force has the same messengers as the Electroweak Force; it is what we might call the light side of the Force. Scientists just rely on electromagnetic light, the dark side of the same Electroweak Force. So they "ignore" the driving nuclear force that conducts the evolution of the entire ORGANIC UNIVERSE. The Earth, Gaia, is living. Is Gaia a pregnant WOMB?

Many clues suggest that SHE has been expanding... We can finally realize we are participating in the end of a cosmic PREGNANCY, hence the BIRTH of a new universe, also implying the BIRTH of a NEW EARTH and a new HUMAN BEING, able to perceive the infinite universes, discern truth from false. The green house effect is a hoax. This doesn't mean that we are free to pollute our beautiful planet. It rather means that we can look for truth and find it.

The NEW EARTH can be the Earth's plasmasphere, visible in extreme ultraviolet and emitting a powerful SONG in radio waves. Her Song has been baffling scientists for decades; they believe they are intelligent and universes are not. The sublime intelligence of the Organic Universe makes sciences and religions collapse; it shows that "natural" and "supernatural" are joined and no energy limits exist. Antarctica is melting. At last we have a sixth continent and a sixth sense too: the consciousness of our eternity and the awareness that an infinite nuclear energy is within. We cannot see it, but can feel as inner truth, the TRUTH that will make us free, if we respect it in our practical actions.
