

Mind Control

MKULTRA, the CIA's brainwashing experiments, are just one example of mind control. Almost as sinister... try advertising.

● 1977 Senate Hearing on MKULTRA by U.S. Senate

Perhaps most disturbing of all was the fact that the extent of experimentation on human subjects was unknown. The records of all these activities were destroyed in January 1973, at the instruction of then CIA Director Richard Helms. In spite of persistent inquiries by both the Health Subcommittee and the Intelligence Committee, no additional records or information were forthcoming. And no one -- no single individual -- could be found who remembered the details, not the Director of the CIA, who ordered the documents destroyed, not the official responsible for the program, nor any of his associates.

● 20th Century Brainwashing: What's Hidden in Microsoft's Logo by Dr. Lechnar

Advertisements bombard every minute of our lives. The advertising industry has penetrated into every aspect of this society. When I wake up in the morning, the first thing I hear is my radio blaring out the latest ad for Sears or the Penn State Bookstore. At night, the last thing I see is the latest peroxide innovation on the toothpaste tube.

● A Mind Control Letter to the President of the USA

Let me introduce myself as the man who came to the USA in 1976 to seek a new life for my family from Canada as I was being persecuted both by management and the unions here because I said their methods were useless and had suggested alternatives. I did not know the persecution was done by Mind Reading.

● America's Secret Police by Jim Hobson

This document is based on evidence that has been collected from victim testimonies, intelligence sources, information databases, and personal observations. ● Brainwashing Techniques Being Used On The Public Today by Dick Sutphen

Any study of brainwashing has to begin with a study of Christian revivalism in eighteenth century America. Apparently, Jonathan Edwards accidentally discovered the techniques during a religious crusade in 1735 in Northampton, Massachusetts. By inducing guilt and acute apprehension and by increasing the tension, the "sinners" attending his revival meetings would break down and completely submit.

● CIA Experiments with Mind Control on Children by Jon Rappoport

In unpublicized sessions, New Orleans therapist Valerie Wolf introduced two of her patients who had uncovered memories of being part of extensive CIA brainwashing programs as young children (in one case, starting at age seven). Their brainwashing included torture, rape, electroshock, powerful drugs, hypnosis and death threats.

Brainwashing, as a technique, has been used for centuries and is no mystery to psychologists. In this sense, brainwashing means involuntary re-education of basic beliefs and values. All people are being re-educated continually.

● CIA-Initiated Remote Viewing At Stanford Research Institute by H. E. Puthoff, Ph.D.

In July 1995 the CIA declassified, and approved for release, documents revealing its sponsorship in the 1970s of a program at Stanford Research Institute in Menlo Park, CA, to determine whether such phenomena as remote viewing "might have any utility for intelligence collection" [1]. Thus began

● Can Mind Machines Build Up Our Brains?

by Caroline Hall Otis

Nautilus, Universal, Nordic Track -- machines that strengthen and delineate our pecs and glutes have passed beyond mere fad to become a way of life. But how irksome it is to have a Ferrari of a body topped by a Pinto of a brain. Time for the next twist in workout equipment: exercise machines designed to pump power into our cerebral muscles.

● Government Research into ESP & Mind Control

by Tom Porter

Hypnosis, drugs, and psycho-surgery; separately and combined, were the tools of this quest for the ultimate truth serum on the one hand, and the capability to create an agent who could not have his or her mission tortured out of them, or even be aware that they were carrying secret information given to them in an altered state of consciousness. More and more sophisticated drugs were experimented with, such as LSD, Ketamine, and Psilocybine.

● Healing The Effects of Ritual Abuse and Mind Control Experiments

by Robert Lingenfelter

Those who have done even cursory reading into the subject of mind control have heard of the CIA's 1960s project, MK-ULTRA, or its predecessor, ARTICHOKE. These cold war programs gave the CIA carte blanche to explore the possibilities of controlling the human mind. Virtually every reference to such experiments includes documentation of these two programs as proof of our government's willingness to do things that most of us would not approve.

In 1973, just after the CIA's redirection in the next stage of testing and development of the M.K. Several religious "sects and cults" were examined by the Agency for their possible utilization by the CIA in Top Secret studies of Mind Control operations.

The process of making people immune to attempts to change their attitudes by initially exposing them to small doses of the arguments(opposition) against their position. ### ● Michael Egger Mind Control Lawsuit

by Michael Egger

On Monday afternoon, September 10, 1985 I was coming from a shower in a bathroom on the first of the Hawthorne hotel -- to my room, also on the first floor. One of the maids (a somewhat overweight black woman) said to another woman maid (to the best of my memory also black): "Well I don't care if you do or you don't."
